To Project ARRIBA's Fall 2017 Graduating Class:

On behalf of The University of Texas at El Paso, I am pleased to join your family, friends, teachers, mentors and supporters in congratulating each member of Project ARRIBA's Fall 2017 Graduating Class. Well done!

The academic and personal achievement you celebrate today is more than a milestone, it is a cornerstone of your future. Your hard work, determination, and persistence have yielded outcomes that will continue to benefit you, your family, your community, and the generations that follow you.

As you employ talents and skills in the high demand career fields you have chosen, the impact of your unique contributions will resonate in some as yet unimagined ways. What is certain, however, is that many lives will be made better through diligent performance of the work and service for which your education has prepared you.

The entire UTEP community, in partnership with El Paso Community College and Project ARRIBA, takes great pride in your accomplishments, and we continue to stand with you as you prepare for the next chapter of your story.

Again, please accept my best wishes for continued success and happiness.

Sincerely,
